To Whom It May Concern:

Duke Energy is still doing their best to hobble rooftop solar in North Carolina. The proposed settlement – if approved – would leave Duke’s net metering plan extremely complicated, reduce value to customers, and be a step backward for rooftop solar instead of the forward progress needed to meet North Carolina’s climate protection goals.

The NCUC needs to follow the 2017 state law that firmly prohibits any change to net metering rules until the NCUC conducts a cost-benefit analysis of its value to non-solar power users!!

Thank you.
