Chairman Finley: I am writing as a North Carolina resident and ratepayer to express my strong support for NC WARN's petition for rulemaking. There is a long history of stipulated agreements, which most of us would call more bluntly "backroom deals made in smoke-filled rooms," the worst possible way to make decisions to benefit the citizens and businesses of North Carolina. We need to balance many perspectives on what North Carolina needs and the only way to do that is to have open, transparent discussions in which the citizenry and the businesses get a good opportunity to participate. Please make this happen.

Mr. Finley:

Enough backroom deals that favor Duke Energy at the expense of the ratepayers of North Carolina! It is past time for new rules that will guarantee open and fair processes in power plant, rate hike, and merger cases.

Dear Chairman Finley,

As the days wind down before the public hearing I continue to think:

Has the public been sufficiently informed of the crucial issues facing the people of this region such as the costs and dangers of fracking, methane use, and pipelines?

Are you aware, sir, of your responsibilities to the health of our people, the cost to the earth, and even the issue of whether Duke will be allowed to pursue a policy which is in no one's best interest?

Or is it as you stated publicly at an earlier hearing, simply a matter of whether your wife has air-conditioning for 15 minutes on a summer afternoon?

Sincerely,
Pat Moore

Dear ncuc,

I want to express my concern and dismay for the lack of transparency and potential favoritism to Duke Energy via back door Boardroom deals.

I expect the NCUC to be open and honest beyond reproach for dealing and details of all state utilities business and place the best needs of the citizens over the needs regulated business utilities that are guaranted to profit from NC citizens.

*Regards,
Rob Fricke*

TO: NC Utilities Commission Chair Ed Finley:

I am representing the general public citizen who is forced to accept business dealings with the monopoly utility company Duke Energy in the State of North Carolina. I and so many other North Carolina citizens are speaking out due to the duress of high bills and stress from the destruction of healthy communities due to spillage and lack of sufficient clean up from Duke Power and its negligence. Thus, we demand that justice be done in regard to transparency and no more backroom deals that favor Duke Energy instead of ratepayers!

The great state of North Carolina must favor its citizens who it is obligated to protect and represent -- not monopoly companies whose major agenda is high profits without regard to the people or the environment of our state. Moreover, it is unjust as well as unfair to prohibit other companies from having an opportunity to provide solar power solutions to the citizenry of our state. In addition, it forces the energy system to participate in the destruction of our environment if this position is upheld. We are thus insisting that a more prudent approach be fostered by the only body of power with the force to do something judicious about this problem. We urge that you DO THE RIGHT THING in respect to the good for the general public.

Protect citizens and not Duke power. Make Duke clean up coal ash and don't allow Duke to build any facility that isn't environmentally safe. Charles Talley
