NOW COMES Duke Energy Progress, LLC, (“DEP”) and the Public Staff of the North Carolina Utilities Commission (“Public Staff”) and respectfully request that the North Carolina Utilities Commission (“Commission”) adjust certain fuel and fuel-related cost factors (set forth in the Commission’s November 17, 2023 Order Approving Fuel Charge Adjustment) and issue an Errata Order in this matter. In support of this Motion, DEP and the Public Staff respectfully state as follows:

1. On November 17, 2023, the Commission issued its Order Approving Fuel Charge Adjustment for DEP (“Fuel Order”) and ordered the Public Staff and DEP to jointly prepare a proposed notice (“Customer Notice”) to customers of the rate adjustment approved in the Commission’s Order.
2. In reviewing the Order and in preparation of the Customer Notice, it was discovered that certain fuel and fuel-related cost factors presented in the Joint Proposed Order¹ were in error. As such, those errors were inadvertently transposed to the Commission's Fuel Order of November 17, 2023. As well, the parties request the inclusion of the adjusted rates from Appendix A.

3. More specifically, the fuel and fuel-related cost factors that were in error and require correction appear on the following pages of the Order:
 - Page 19- In Ordering Paragraph No. 1, the adjustment to base fuel and fuel-related costs factor of 0.073¢/kWh for residential class is incorrect.
 - Page 19- In Ordering Paragraph No. 1, the adjustment to base fuel and fuel-related costs factor of 0.676¢/kWh for lighting class is incorrect.
 - Page 19- In Ordering Paragraph No. 1, the EMF increment adjustment of 1.679¢/kWh for the lighting class is incorrect.
4. The correct Fuel and Fuel-Related Costs, which should have been approved and subsequently included in the Customer Notice, are as follows:
 - The correct adjustment to base fuel and fuel-related costs factor for the residential class is 0.074¢/kWh.

¹ On October 19, 2023, DEP and the Public Staff filed a Joint Proposed Order in Docket No. E-2, Sub 1321.

- The correct adjustment to base fuel and fuel-related costs factor for the lighting class is 0.675¢/kWh.
- The Correct EMF increment adjustment for the lighting class is 1.680¢/kWh

6. Attached hereto is a proposed Errata Order approving the changes outlined herein. Note that under separate cover the Customer Notice will be filed with the Commission and will contain the correct information.

7. DEP and Public Staff regret the error and apologize for the inconvenience.

WHEREFORE, Duke Energy Progress, LLC and the Public Staff of the North Carolina Utilities Commission move the Commission to adopt the corrected fuel and fuel-related cost factors outlined herein and to issue an Errata Order approving the corrections requested.

Respectfully submitted, this 22nd day of November 2023.
