I don't trust Duke at all.

After I opted out of the smart meter and was told that was all I had to do, they came and tried to sneak it on anyway! Fortunately, I caught them and put some locks on. They have come and installed smart meters on everyone I know who opted out, except for one friend who has really mean dogs in the yard. Ridiculous that this is what one has to do!

Anyway, this has made me very distrustful of Duke Energy in general. If I could switch electric companies, I would.
